VOLUME THIRTEEN

FULTON, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1944.

NUMBER FORTY-FOUR

$289,000 Goal Is Sought In Sixth War Loan Drive

A goal of $289,000 is sought in the Sixth War Loan Drive in Fulton County, which opened throughout the nation last Monday. Up to Wednesday night a total of $81,605.25 worth of bonds had been purchased in this county, according to Clyde P. Williams, Fulton, chairman.

On the first day, Monday, forty-four persons had bought $39,336.50, from Nov. 1 to Nov. 20. Then 107 persons purchased $10,362.50 to give a total credit the first day of $49,699.00.

Don't forget the boys on the fighting front. They cannot let down until victory is won—and neither can we at home. Many more individual buyers and "keepers" are needed to put this Sixth War Loan Drive over.

With only $81,605.25 subscribed that leaves more than $200,000 yet to be purchased. Have you bought yours? If not do it today. And, another important feature to assure the success of these drives, and to hasten victory, a well aid yourself and family, is to keep the bonds until the war is won. They not only aid the war effort, but will be a grubstake when you will need it worse than you do now.

Fulton county has always oversubscribed; but this time let's do a bigger and better job than ever! That mean, everybody! Turn out and buy your war bonds today. Many business firms of Fulton are solidly behind the drive, and are urging more individual purchases.

COUNTY AGENT URGES FARMERS TO PRODUCE LUMBER-PULPWOOD

Farmers themselves must produce part of the lumber and pulpwood needed to make the containers, crates, and packaging they will require to harvest and ship their crops to market. J. H. Miller, county agricultural agent pointed out today.

Because of the serious shortage of labor in the woods, he urged farmers and farm hands in Fulton county to devote all possible time to cutting trees in their own or neighboring woodlands.

"The situation has become so critical that unless production of wood products is increased now the war effort will be hampered and our fighting men and farmers themselves may be seriously affected," the county agent said.

County Agent Miller said that farmers may obtain assistance in marking, cutting and marketing their timber by applying to his office or farm forester, or Timber Production War Project forester. He urged farmers to cut their timber tracts selectively, taking mature trees for lumber and thinning for pulpwood, but leaving a good growing stock to improve the stand and assure continued and profitable lumber and pulpwood harvests.

ANOTHER OLD LAND-MARK DISAPPEARS

UNION MEMBERS SHOULD BE MASTERS

By Norman Vincent Peale

(Editor's Note: The Reverend Norman Vincent Peale, D. D., is pastor of Marble Collegiate Church Fifth Avenue, New York City.)

Naturally, this writer favors Labor Unionism. As a Christian minister, I am, of course, a champion of the rights of man. (I refuse to use the term, "common man," for I do not believe that any man is "common.") It is an insult to apply the word to those low in the economic scale, as is frequently done.)

The Church is the one institution that recognizes no distinction of any sort. A chaplain on duty in the South Pacific writes: "Last Sunday I looked out of the window of the South Sea Island chapel where I was preaching and saw our General standing on the outside of the over-crowded building. The front row seated three enlisted men, a captain and a major. I heard later that a ranking officer apologized to the General that no seat had been reserved for him. He replied, 'Seats are not reserved in chapels. When I come late I stand with the others.'"

It is a good thing for labor that there is an institution like the Church plays no favorites, that stands for justice to all men. And And justice demands that one support unionism, the right of workmen to organize and bargain and advance their economic interests. Labor is fortunate that there is an institution like the Church that fears neither labor leaders nor capitalists. In complete friendliness to each, it supports each where they are right and opposes them where they are wrong. The worst friend is the fellow who always pats you on the back. A real friend is a man, who loving you, will stand up for you on occasion and courageously tell you wherein he thinks you are wrong.

Some labor leaders have the childish notion that if you criticize them or any labor policy, you are anti-labor. This is a sign of emotional immaturity. Such leaders should grow up. As a matter of fact, that is also an undemocratic attitude. Democracy thrives on the clash of opinion. It must be remembered that critical opinion is not always unfriendly. On the contrary it is more often creative.

A dangerous conception seems to be developing in the labor movement. It is the idea that the union member is the servant, not the master of the union. In a recent article I pointed out that America gave one original, unique principle to the world: the idea that every citizen and not the state is master. Today, forces are in motion which would reverse this American principle and again make big government supreme. Those espousing this reversal call themselves "Liberals," but really they are "Reactionaries" of the worst sort, for they would take us back to a system where the individual is the serf of the state or of overlords.

Union members ought to watch carefully lest they permit leaders to arise who assume that the union is merely a vehicle to advance them to personal power. Union members should insist that they, the members, are the masters of the labor movement, and that the leaders should serve them. If the union does not serve the average member what good is it? Is the purpose of the union merely to furnish subservient backs upon which ambitious men climb to power over their fellows? If, as has been charged, some capitalists have at times crushed men in their upward rise, so can individual union members be crushed by ruthless men who are imbued with the same selfish desires, but who merely take the labor-leader route instead of the capitalists route. Both are predatory egotists under the skin.

Greater democracy is needed among union members, a democracy that will say to the leaders: "Leadership is based on service—leadership is not a special privilege—it is not to build up arrogant supermen, drunk with power." The rank and file should demand and elect leaders who are happy in the distinction of being servants, not masters, of one of the finest American groups, the working men and women of our country. There are many such leaders. Give them your support and encouragement.

If the labor movement should become a transmission belt of the master state concept, it will contribute to the ultimate destruction of free unionism. It will help destroy the most sacred principle in human life, the sacredness and supreme value of the individual man. Workingmen, hold to your dignity—you are masters, not servants.

"FOREIGN AFFAIRS"

There is one side of the national political debate over foreign affairs that has been receiving too little attention.

President Roosevelt said over a year ago: "Congress in passing and extending the Lend-Lease Act made it plain that the United States wants no new war debts to jeopardize the coming peace. Victory and a secure peace are the only coin in which we can be repaid." The President qualified the latter sentence, somewhat!

Now the newspapers are arguing in their editorials as to whether the United States should expect to receive repayment from the nations we have saved in this war, or whether the debt should be cancelled.

There is no rule in finance, economics or trade by which millions or billions of dollars are turned over to good friends in trouble without expectation of repayment. The taxpayers have been called on to back the most expensive venture in all history by reason of this war. We have loaned and leased to the limit to the United Nations, principally Great Britain and Soviet Russia. They owe us billions of dollars and there is every reason why they should repay it—when they can.

THE GET RICH QUICK IDEA

In the years following the first World War hundreds of thousands of American citizens planned to get rich quick through trading on the stock markets. But they didn't.

Now the New York market is fluctuating up and down. In the heat of the national political campaign over a thousand stocks declined in two days. The speculators put in their money to back their around the corner. But thinking belief that boom times were just changes as fast as the ticker tape. In the last week of October most of the speculators agreed that there would be an European victory "most any day, now," and that such a victory would be accomplished by reconversion troubles. It was all poor guess-work.

Will our people never learn that dabbling in stocks is a business in which professionals prepare to win or lose, and in which amateurs strew the casualty lists almost unanimously.

Buy Government bonds which will always be good as long as the United States exists.

EVERYBODY WORKED—EVEN FATHER

The wheels of industry and full employment for all persons wanting work have been traveling at top speed for three full years. In the final quarter of 1943 war production reached its peak when it was 73 per cent higher than the 1942 annual rate. Refined petroleum and rubber products forged ahead to remarkable gains—even if rationing regulations and car driving and mileage were not eased.

The big question that hits workers is hom, when and where they are going to get jobs, in basic industries, large and small, after the fighting.

Fourteen and one-half million women pitched in and were working with 41,200,000 men this year, keeping the wheels going around; 5,000,000 boys and girls from the ages of 14 through 17 joined the ranks of workers. School work was interrupted, and terminated, in many localities; juvenile delinquency assumed serious proportions. Longer hours and higher wages added to the complications. Nevertheless, Government and political jobs jumped one-third to six million, and it is very questionable whether such increases were at all necessary. Labor and stabilization were described as having "become confused."

Most scraps between big business and small business can be traced to the puerile attempts of brass-hatters in the Federal government, who hold control over the workers of the nation, and perpetuate quarrels by dragging in non-essentials by and with the assistance and interference of too many of the aforesaid millions of political job-holders.

If our "collective bargaining" laws and provisions were left free and used for normal use, there would be no trouble for employers and workers to come to reasonable understandings, without strikes, without bothering the President, and without the President bothering the boards, agencies, brass-hats and members of the "palace guard."

HOMEMAKERS' PLAN FOR EASIER WORK

Housekeeping is going to be easier for homemakers in Campbell county who adopted some of the suggestions of Miss Ida C. Hagman specialist at the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Twenty-eight women corrected heights of working surfaces in the kitchen, 34 bought kitchen stools, 13 put up bulletin boards, 47 sharpened tools, 34 provided cutting boards, 15 re-arranged their kitchens to make them more convenient and 28 women are making it a practice to use trays to save steps. It is reported that 32 women made a family spending plan, and 37 women are keep family records.

A blush is the sign which Nature hangs out to show where chastity and honor dwell.—Gothhold.

THE AMERICAN WAY

By George Peck

THE DEPARTMENT OF INJUSTICE

By George Peck

Has no one told Attorney General Biddle about the magnificent performance of the American Railroads since Pearl Harbor? Where can he have been hiding so that he has failed to see for himself what practically every American has witnessed—the American railroads doing the biggest job in their history under the heaviest handicaps they have ever known?

Of if Mr. Biddle has been told or if he has seen these "Miracles of Movement" why does he seek to destroy the Association of American Railroads—their central coordinating organization whose existence to a great extent made possible the extraordinary war achievements of the Railroads?

Can it be that Attorney General Biddle is aiming toward government ownership of the Railroads? It looks suspiciously like that, for if the Department of Justice is successful in its suit against the Railroads and the Association of American Railroad is abolished, either the Government will have to take over the Association's functions, or the railroads will lose the power of coordinating with one another and reduced to the status of unrelated units, making such arrangements for the interchange of passengers, freight and equipment as may fit the occasion, and with each road fixing its own standards.

Doesn't Attorney General Biddle know that this latter would result in a condition of chaos such as the Sherman Anti-Trust Act was never meant to produce, adversely affecting passengers, shippers, railway employees and the consuming public, as well as the stockholders of the American Railroads?

Is not Attorney General Biddle aware that the Association of American Railroads always has supported the principle that competition is necessary to progress and enterprise in transportation and that it abides not only by all the rules of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act but also conforms to the Interstate Commerce Act as interpreted by the Interstate Commerce Commission?

Doesn't Attorney General Biddle recognize that the great rail system of the United States operates so smoothly in rendering nationwide service, principally because the Association of American Railroads makes rules for the interchange of equipment; that it specifies the kind of couplers and air-brakes that may be used; prescribes the dimensions of cars and sets other standards, so that cars can couple and go wherever the rails go, and that bakes shall work properly throughout a train containing cars of many different railroads?

Surely the Attorney General must know these things. Then why does he seek to disrupt or disband this central organization with his so-called Anti-Trust suit? Why does he portray as a law violator the great institution through which the railroads have accomplished the co-operation necessary for them to handle their war job so well?

It is my conviction that the American people want to know the answers to these questions; that they will demand an explanation as to why the Department of Justice has been subverted in this case into a department of injustice—into a department that would punish where reward is really due.

It is my further conviction that

When Your Back Hurts—

And Your Strength and Energy Is Below Par

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood. You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder. There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won country-wide approval than on something less favorably known. Doan's have been tried and tested many years. Are at all drug stores. Get Doan's today.

DOAN'S PILLS

failing to get an explanation other than that this is called for Anti-Trust suit is only a move to carry this nation further along on the road to State Socialism, the American public will see to it that justice prevails where the Department of Justice, belying its name, seeks to perpetrate an injustice on the American Railroads to whom nothing but the praise and warm thanks of the nation are due.

NATION-WIDE BIBLE

READING PERIOD FROM
NOV. 23 TO DEC. 31

In arranging for this nation wide Bible reading period the American Bible Society canvassed more than one hundred thousand pastors and six thousand chaplains, asking them to give the Bible passages which they considered most helpful in times like these. From the replies the following chapters of the Bible were selected, one for each day between Thanksgiving and the end of the year.

Thursday, Nov. 23—Psalms 103.
Nov. 24—John 14.
Nov. 25—Psalms 23.
Nov. 26—Psalms 1.
Nov. 27—Matthew 5.
Nov. 28—Romans 8.
Nov. 29—1 Corinthians 13.
Nov. 30—Psalms 91.
December 1—Matthew 6.
Dec. 2—John 3.
Sunday, Dec. 3—Isaiah 40.
Dec. 4—Psalms 46.
Dec. 5—Romans 12.
Dec. 6—Hebrews 11.
Dec. 7—Matthew 7.
Dec. 8—John 15.
Dec. 9—Psalms 27.
Sunday, Dec. 10—Isaiah 55.
Dec. 11—Psalms 121.
Dec. 12—Philippians 4.
Dec. 13—Revelation 21.
Dec. 14—Luke 15.
Dec. 15—Ephesians 6.
Dec. 16—John 17.
Sunday, Dec. 17—Isaiah 53.

These are choice passages which all lovers of the word of God have found helpful. Let us read them again thoughtfully and prayerfully. Let us cherish this Book of God more and more. Tell others what the Bible has done for your soul; how it has comforted you in time of sorrow, enlightened you in time of perplexity, revealed to you the right way, brought to you a living hope. Why not cut this out and place it in your Bible for reference.

HEALTH OFFICERS WARN CITIZENS OF FRAUDULENT CLAIMS BY IMPOSTORS

Tells of Private Waste Disposal Plants and How To Care for Them

Recently there has been a man working in the community who has presented himself as an agent of or as a representative of the local Board of Health, and solicited business under the Health Department supervision for the purpose of cleaning waste disposal receptacles, Dr. Paul A. Wright, Health Officer of Fulton County, stated this week.

Further more in most cases this procedure would not be recommended as the expense of having this type receptacle cleaned is more than the price of construction for new ones to replace the old, Dr. Wright points out.

Dr. Wright said further: Sanitary privies when filled should be moved to a new location and placed over a new, properly dug pit, curbed with lumber, and the old pit covered with at least 12 inches of dirt.

Septic tanks may occasionally need cleaning if they do not function properly, but here the cause for failure to function is most likely to be found in the field tile drainage system rather than in the tank itself. Never in our experience have we found it necessary to clean a septic tank and some have been known to be in operation for as long as 15 years, and still functioning properly without being cleaned. Cesspools (which do not function as a septic tank) are not accepted by the Board of Health as a proper sanitary method of sewage disposal. It would be better to replace cesspools with septic tanks than to have a cesspool pumped and cleaned out as the price for cleaning a cesspool of adequate size would more than pay the construction of a new septic tank.

The local Health Department is ready at any time to furnish plans and make recommendations for the construction of sewage and waste disposal of any type for rural or urban houses when city sewer systems are not available. Again—the Health Department has no representative nor do we sponsor any agent or firm who cleans private sewage disposal systems.

It has also been brought to our attention that some men doing plumbing have stated that they work under the direction of the Health Department. The Health Department does not supervise the work of any man doing plumbing or of any plumber. Only in the case of food handling establishments that are inspected and graded by this department do we voluntarily supervise the installation of new plumbing fixtures or recommend correction of any existing plumbing defects. In all such establishments the plans for the plumbing are submitted to the State Department of Health engineer in Louisville for approval before the local Board of Health approves and inspects the work, the head of the Fulton-Hickman Counties Health Departments concluded.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

It is not as easy to plan winter-time meals as those of summer when gardens are filled with fresh vegetables. But that is all the more reason why every homemaker should give special thought to this important task during the coming months.

Checking yesterday's meals with the seven basic rules is a good test of one's planning. Did you include a green or yellow vegetable, raw or cooked? Was the bread made of enriched flour or of whole-wheat cereals? Have a serving of tomatoes, grapefruit juice, orange juice or raw cabbage? Enough milk for both adults and children? Did you have a serving of fish, meat, or poultry during the day? Were there potatoes and other vegetables? And what about butter or fortified margarine?

In well-planned menus for a day, all of the above foods should be represented. Mrs. Pearl Haak of the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics suggests this menu as one which supplies a large number of the above, the rest to be provided in the other two meals of the day: breaded veal steak, mashed potatoes, buttered peas, apple and nut salad, whole-wheat rolls and butter, molasses cookies and fruit sauce.

Molasses Cookies

1 cup brown sugar
1-2 cup sorghum molasses
1 cup fat (melted)
3 eggs well beaten
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
3-4 teaspoon ginger
1-4 cup hot water
flour to make a soft dough
(about 4 cups)
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix the sugar, molasses, melted fat and beaten eggs. Mix soda with hot water and stir quickly into the first mixture. Add dry ingredients well sifted, then vanilla. Chill, roll and cut. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees. Chopped nuts or sugar may be sprinkled over the top before baking.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my thanks and appreciation to all my friends who remembered me in any way during my recent illness.

WAR BONDS Now!

THE Sixth War Loan is under way. We citizens of the United States are asked by our Government to buy $14,000,000,000 worth of War Bonds, between November 20 and December 16.

This huge sum is urgently needed to supply our armed forces with guns, planes, ships tanks and everything else they must have to fight their way to victory and bring peace to a shattered world.

Let's put every dollar we can possibly spare into these War Bonds. Let's show our fighting men—who are offering their lives and enduring untold hardships in the battle zones—that we are supporting them without limit.

Let's serve notice on the Nazis and Japs that we're more determined than ever to crush their efforts to enslave the world and destroy our kind of civilization.

We can best do this by over-subscribing the Sixth War Loan by a tremendous margin... a landslide of our dollars!

By putting all our spare cash into War Bonds we save money at a profit... because the Government will repay us $4 for every $5 we lend Uncle Sam... and it's the world's safest investment.

By investing our dollars in War Bonds (instead of extravagantly buying things we don't really need) we help to prevent skyrocketing prices on food, clothing, fuel and other necessities... which is dangerous inflation.

By purchasing War Bonds to the very limit we will help end the war sooner. We will more quickly get our loved ones in service back home. We will speed the restoration of the normal American Way of Life... with better appreciation of our country and our freedoms and with greater opportunities for achievement and happiness among our people than ever before in the history of this beloved land.

Give War Bonds for Christmas

PUSHOVER?

DON'T TELL PRIVATE JONES THE JAPS ARE EASY

THE JOB IN THE PACIFIC IS STILL TERRIFIC!

THERE ARE STILL MILLIONS OF TOUGH, BRUTAL JAPS TO LICK. EVERY JAP WE KILL MAKES MY CHANCES OF GETTING HOME BETTER, AND IT COSTS PLENTY TO KILL A JAP

IF YOU think Japan is a pushover—you're fooling yourself, mister. Millions of fanatical Japanese are prepared to die for their country. Every American soldier, marine and sailor in the Pacific knows that he has a tough fight on his hands. You can't tell them their war is over! Even as you read these words, American men are dying in the fight against Japan.

Look into your heart and ask yourself honestly: "Have I stopped fighting? Have I stopped buying War Bonds because I think the war is about over?" You're not a quitter; your answer is "No!"

It costs billions of dollars a month to fight Japan

The fight in the Pacific calls for a highly specialized type of equipment. B-29 bombers that cost $600,000 in War Bonds; M-4 tanks with bulldozer blades that cost $67,417; "alligators" that cost $30,000; millions of gallons of gas. We need more and costlier equipment than any war has ever called for. And that's the reason for the 6th War Loan Drive. Just as long as a single Japanese aims a gun at our men—we must continue to buy War Bonds.

Once again you are asked to buy at least one extra $100 War Bond. Buy more if you possibly can. Not only is it for the final Victory—it's for your future. Sign up for extra War Bonds on the Payroll Plan. Welcome the Victory Volunteer when he or she calls at your home. Remember—the job in the Pacific is still terrific. We're out to get Japan in the 6th War Loan Drive!

STANDARDS OF VALUE

By RUTH TAYLOR

A great man of letters once defined a cynic as someone who knew the price of everything and the value of nothing.

There comes a time when each of us must pause and consider just what are our standards of value, just what we, as individuals and as an integral part of a great nation, hold most dear.

If we were asked what is the motto of the United States, we would surely answer, "In God we trust." America gives to its citizens freedom of conscience, not license for unconscience; freedom of belief, not the destruction of all belief.

There is our standard of values. We have a yalsttick of common belief in the omnipotence, the omniscience and the amipresence of God, no matter whether we learned our faith in cathedral, church or synagogue. It is our common denominator. The Ten Commandments belong to all alike.

We are a God-fearing people. We know that our standards of value must be. They were laid down by the Prophet Micah centuries ago when he said, "What doth the Lord require of thee but to do justly, love mercy and walk humbly with thy God." All three great faiths subscribe to that yardstick.

Inasmuch as all religions are based upon the same fundamental principles and concepts, religion should be the means of bringing about a better understanding between people, and should unite them in common bonds of fellowship. If, however, people will persist in regarding religion as a source of separation and a desivie thing, their religion may do harm rather than good. If it does, it is the fault of the followers rather than of the creeds themselves. They are not following their own faith.

Dr. Benett in, "Christianity and Our World," went still further when he said: "Unethical religWion is a far greater ranger to true religion than secularism. It is possible to be closer to God in seeking what God wills while denying his existence, than in defending an unjust order of things while praising him."

From our own religious teaching we know what our standard of values must be. It is up to us to follow them as individuals and as a nation.
